

Contribution ID: 165

Type: not specified

Searching for New Physics with Dedicated Experiments@ the LHC

Wednesday, 7 September 2016 12:50 (30 minutes)

We discuss a number of recent ideas for dedicated experiments at the LHC for the search of new physics, which are complementary to the large general purpose experiments ATLAS and CMS. These dedicated experiments aim to search for either monopoles, particles with millicharges or long lived particles with decay lengths of 100s of meters.

Primary author: DE ROECK, Albert (CERN)

Presenter: DE ROECK, Albert (CERN)

Session Classification: Diffraction in hadron-hadron collisions - experiment (IV)

Track Classification: Diffraction in hadron-hadron collisions (experiment)