- By train and bus from Florence central station (“Firenze Santa Maria Novella”): take a local train to Firenze Rifredi station (5 minutes travel). Exit from the station in Vasco De Gama street (follow the panels) and take the bus number 59 towards “Polo Scientifico” (timetable). Leave the bus at the last stop (“Schiff” stop). The INFN building is 5 minutes walk apart:

A single bus ticket (but not train ticket) is valid for both the train up to Rifredi station and for the bus, and vice-versa for the return trip. Tickets are valid for 90 minutes after validation, so you'll need a ticket also for the return trip. Remember to validate the ticket at the validating machines at the train platform before boarding the train, or immediately after boarding the bus during the return trip. Tickets can be bought at kiosks or bars (ask for "biglietto Ataf", ~ 1.4 euro each).

- From "Amerigo Vespucci" airport: the shortest way is to take a taxi (15-20 euro, 5 minutes drive). Alternatively (~ 1 hour travel), take the shuttle bus to Florence downtown. The shuttle stop is on your right when you exit from the airport terminal, near the taxi stand. Buy the ticket on board (6 euro). The shuttle will leave you in the nearby of Santa Maria Novella train station. From there, follow the train/bus instructions above (remember to buy a valid ticket since the airport shuttle ticket is not valid for trains and other buses).
