

Contribution ID: 23

Type: not specified

Cryogenic mirror suspension in KAGRA

Friday, 25 October 2019 14:35 (35 minutes)

KAGRA is a 2G interferometric gravitational wave detector constructed in Japan. Its unique features are using underground site and cryogenic sapphire mirrors. In this talk, I will talk on current status and difficulties of cryogenic mirror suspension and our plan to overcome these issues.

Primary author: Dr USHIBA, Takafumi (ICRR)

Presenter: Dr USHIBA, Takafumi (ICRR)

Session Classification: Advanced cryogenics