

NuSym22, 10th International Symposium on Nuclear Symmetry Energy Catania (Italy), September 26-30, 2022

The 10th International Symposium on Nuclear Symmetry Energy (NuSym22) will be held in Catania (Italy) on September 26-30, 2022, at the Physics and Astronomy Department of the University of Catania. The event is organized and supported by INFN, Sezione di Catania and Laboratori Nazionali del Sud, and by the Physics and Astronomy Department of the University of Catania.

The last in-person meeting was in 2019 in Da Nang (Vietnam). Due to the pandemic, a virtual edition was organized in 2021. We look forward to an in-person meeting again in 2022, to renew collaborations and inspire new projects. The symposium will address investigations of the equation of state of nuclear matter with nuclear structure and heavy-ion collision studies, as well as astrophysical observations of compact stars. Implications on gravitational wave signals, soft X-rays, astroparticle physics and neutrino observations will be discussed. Students and postdocs are especially encouraged to participate.

The web site of the conference can be found at <https://agenda.infn.it/event/21920/>. Registration is open and contributions for oral/poster presentations can be submitted on the web site. For any information, please contact us at: nusym2022@ct.infn.it.
