

Contribution ID: 35

Type: Poster

Noisy propagation of Gaussian states in optical media with finite bandwidth

We address the propagation of Gaussian states of light in optical media with a finite bandwidth. Upon assuming weak coupling and low temperature we show that attenuation (damping) is strongly suppressed and that the overall diffusion process may be described by a Gaussian noisy channel with variance depending only on bandwidth.

Presenter: PARIS, Matteo (University of Milan)

Session Classification: Beers and Posters