Contribution ID: 19 Type: not specified

Diffractive open charm production at HERA: experiment versus two-gluon exchange model

Diffractive production of D^* mesons at HERA is considered in the framework of collinear two-gluon exchange model. Theoretical results are compared with recent experimental data collected by the H1 and ZEUS collaborations both in the real photoproduction and the deep inelastic regimes, and a reasonably good agreement is found in all cases.

Primary author: Dr BARANOV, Sergey (P.N.Lebedev Institute of Physics)

Presenter: Dr BARANOV, Sergey (P.N.Lebedev Institute of Physics)

Track Classification: Diffraction in DIS