

HP2 2026

will be in ...

Germany's first UNESCO City of Media Arts

Media art is universal – it stands for social and technological innovation, for creativity, connectivity, interdisciplinarity, and brings art and science together in manifold ways.

image credit: Antonin Krizanic

Karlsruhe Festival of lights

image credit: Joachim Mende

View from the Physics Building (almost)

photos: Heiner Jacob

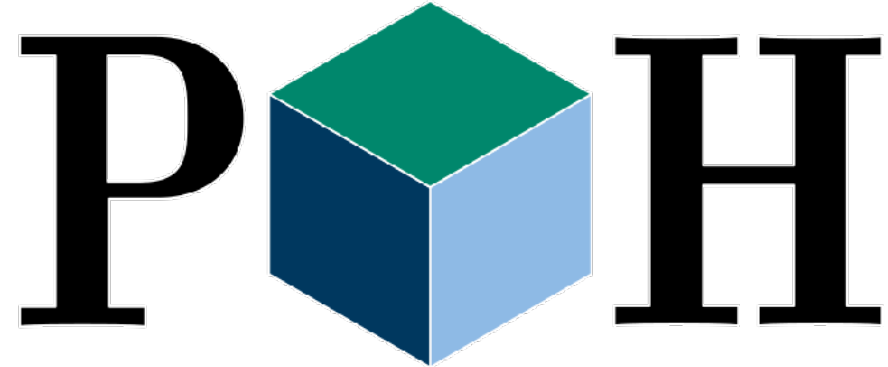

Karlsruhe Institute of Technology

Physics building

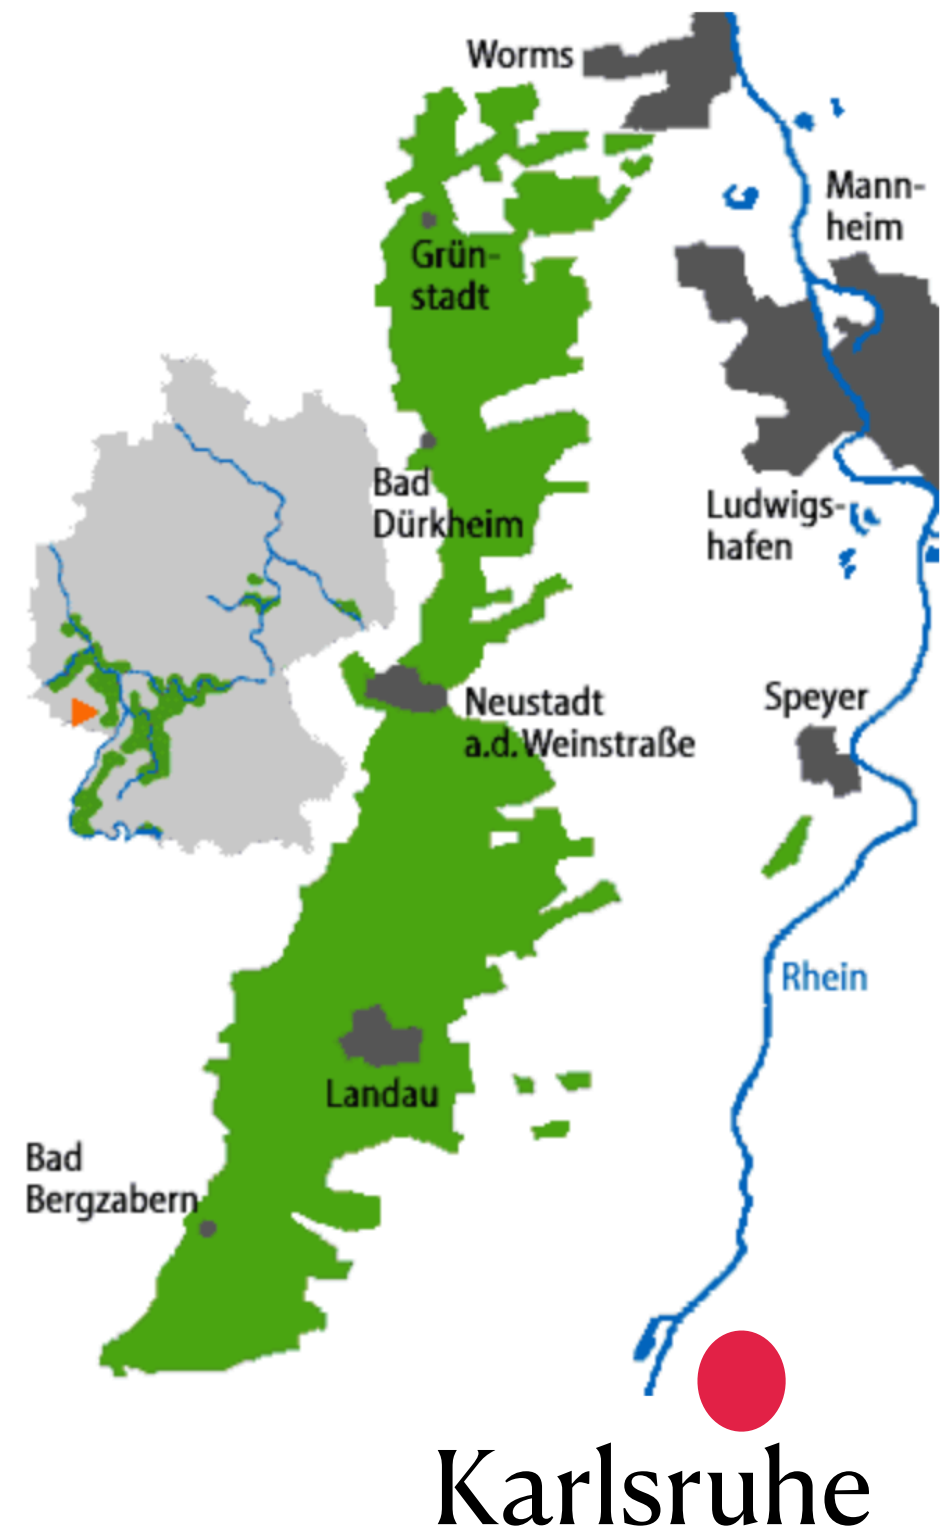

Collaborative Research Center TRR 257

Particle Physics Phenomenology after the Higgs Discovery

We cannot compete with Barolo, but Karlsruhe is located between two famous wine areas in Germany (Pfalz and Ortenau)

Another excursion option could beer tasting ...

Easy communication ist mit den Locals in English, Gaelic und Badisch möglich. Irish heart, what more do you want?

Vogelbräu, known to most physicists who ever have been in Karlsruhe

Apart from the wine, the Pfalz is also known for its castles and sandstone formations

See you in Karlsruhe in 2026 !

image credit: Jürgen Rösner