INFN Perugia

The SOSC23 is coming to an end

- We completed the fifth edition of the SOSC
 - And this was the one with the bigger number of attendees!

Personally I'm very happy with this edition

- You made the school this week very stimulating, with a lot of questions and lovely discussion!!
- Many discussions and interactions, during hands-on, social events as well as coffee breaks
- And finally several drinks too :)
 - very pleasant stay with you!!!

A special thank to all the teachers

And yes... those are two pillars of the SOSC

Lucio Anderlini
Diego Ciangottini
Alessandro Costantini
Mirko Mariotti
Luca Scrucchi
Tommaso Tedeschi
Giulio Bianchini
Giovanni Mazzitelli

Opportunities (at several levels)

It's a very hectic moment... INFN has many ongoing initiatives: just some examples (externally funded projects) which offer several kinds of collaboration opportunities.

- European projects
- National projects
- Local projects
- Contacts with private sectors

NRPP and INFN

For what regards the NRRP, our reference project is ICSC

- the Italian Research Center on High-Performance Computing, Big Data and Quantum Computing.

Already mentioned and used INFN Cloud multiple times here at SOSC23.

- In the context of ICSC project, INFN Cloud will become the “National DataCloud”, a unique, distributed set of Cloud-native resources and services offered to academia, research and industry.

Concretely: who to contact

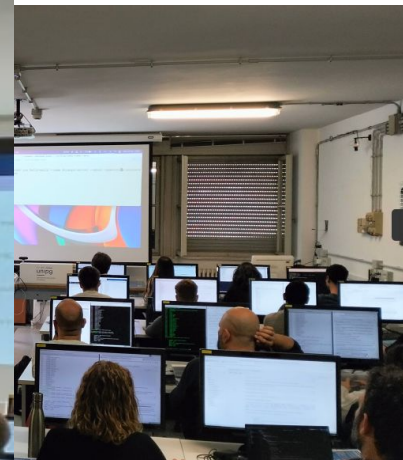

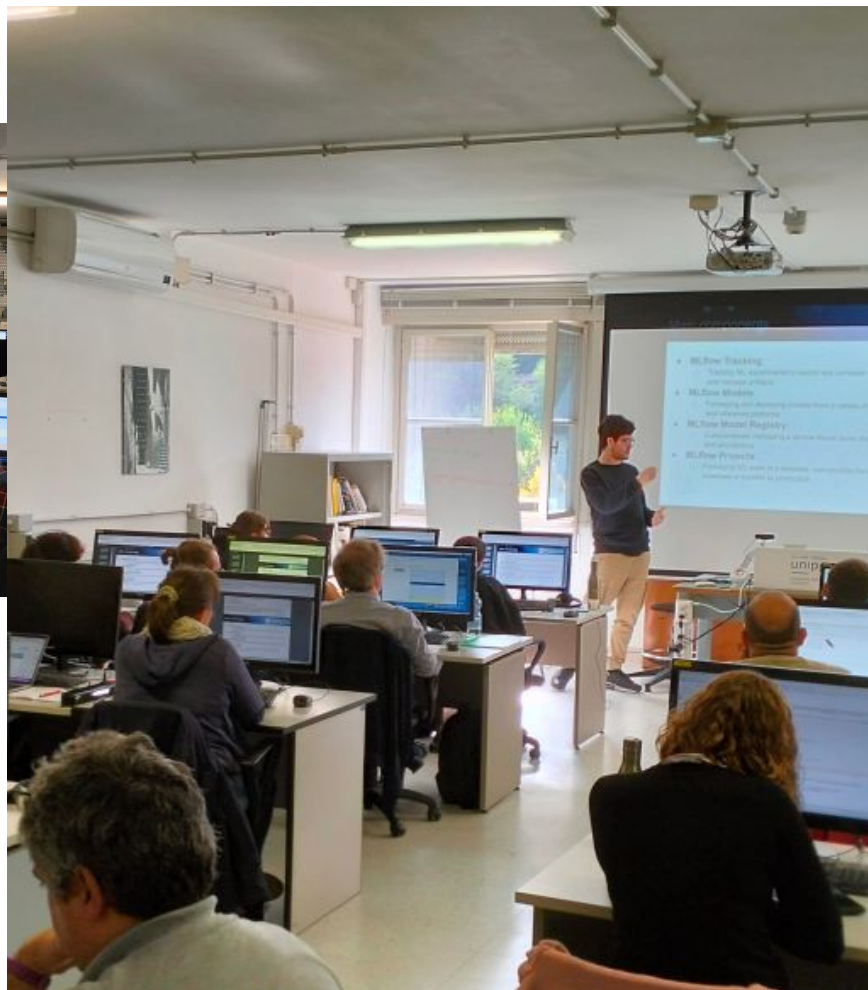

You can contact the school organizers :

- `sosc23-pc<at>lists.infn.it`

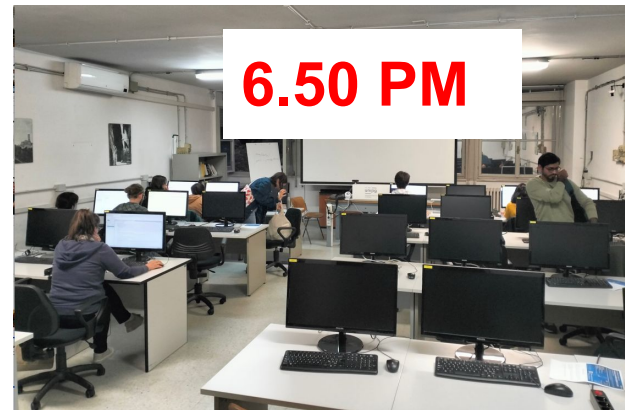

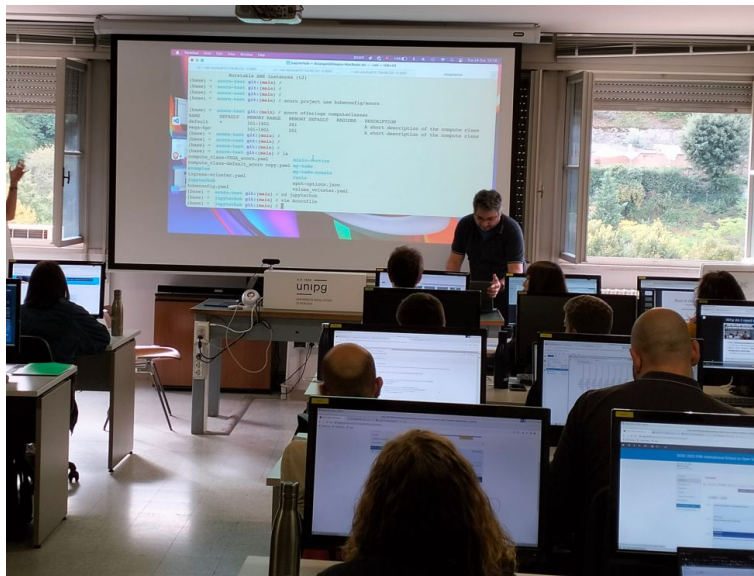

But consider to contact directly

- `spiga<at>pg.infn.it`
- `lucio.anderlini<at>fi.infn.it`
