When writing your contribution, in addition to the scientific quality and relevance of the subject matter, it is advisable also to check the quality of formatting, language and style (i.e. incoherent use of unit of measure; different conventions used in the same paper such as abbreviations “\3 s”, “\3 sec”, “\3 seconds” and position: “\3C”, “\3 C”; poorly organized tables; etc.)

When your contribution is ready for submission, please follow the instructions below:

1. Connect to jinst.sissa.it, register (if needed) and login;
2. In the “Submit” section of the page select the link “submit a proceedings contribution”
3. Select the ICFDT7 conference from the list;
4. Follow the step-by-step procedure for submission, referring to the instructions available on the “For Authors” help page.
5. For the JINST articles complete accessibility options please refer to the Access to your paper section.

In case of doubts, it is advisable to check with your institution (normally the library) about your internal policy and also you can always refer to the JINST Editorial Office;

6. Please let the Editorial Office know in advance if any of the figures included in your preprint is not original. To do so, you will find a button “write to Editorial Office” on your preprint web page, after submission.

If this is the case, we also suggest that you start searching for/obtain any necessary permission to reproduce it as soon as possible in order to avoid publication delays.

If you are unsure whether you need to seek permission for any material you have re-used, you may find this guide useful: <https://publishingsupport.iopscience.iop.org/permissionsfaq/>.

The submission pages will be open from October 21st to December 31st, 2024.

For any further information and assistance, do not hesitate to contact me and the JINST Editorial Office.

Yours sincerely,
