12TH INTERNATIONAL
CONFERENCE ON ISOTOPES

FLORENCE 15-19 FEB 2026

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

We are honored to invite you to partner with us on the journey of a successful 12th International Conference on Isotopes (12ICI).

Themed “Isotopes around us, their applications and beyond” the event builds on past conferences by continuing a multifaceted, interdisciplinary exchange between the developers and producers of isotopes and the application of isotopes in medicine, industry, environment, national security and other fields.

SESSIONS ARE ORGANIZED BY TRACKS COVERING TOPICS ON:

- ◆ Isotopes Production and Devices
- ◆ Isotope Applications
- ◆ Isotopes in the Environment
- ◆ Policy, Economics, and Global Impact of Isotope Production and Use
- ◆ Decommissioning of Production Facilities
- ◆ Security, Safety and Quality Assurance
- ◆ Education
- ◆ Marie Curie
- ◆ Young Scientist

The 12th International Conference on Isotopes (12ICI) provides a unique opportunity to add value to your company by strengthening your brand through networking and showcasing the latest technological developments to the isotopes industry with us as a sponsor.

This premier international event is expected to attract a diverse audience, well over 400 speakers and specialists of Italian, European and worldwide international fame. Considering the themes of the Conference and that it will be in Italy and more specifically in Florence we will attend a greater number of delegates from all over the world. There will be over 300 scientific and technical presentations in plenary, parallel and poster sessions with additional panel discussions.

The event will be held on February 15-19, 2026, at Palazzo dei Congressi in Florence, Italy.

On behalf of the International Scientific Board of the Congress that represent 30 Nations from the five Continents, I would like to invite you to sponsor and/or to participate as exhibitor at 12ICI

Prof. Flavia Groppi
Chair of the Conference

WELCOME TO 12ICI

Location: Florence, Italy

Dates: February 15-19, 2026

WHO ARE WE?

The 12th International Conference on Isotopes (12IC) is a forum of informal exchange of knowledge for scientists from different subject areas where the use, production, investigation or the measurements performed making use of isotopes, radionuclides and nuclear radiation are contributing significantly to the technical progress.

ICI conferences have been held since 1995 (normally every two years). They are organized by the World Council on Isotopes (WCI) and a participating organization to highlight the importance of nuclear science, medicine, and technology in advancing human health and protection of the environment.
