KM3 Collaboration Meeting
Catania, December 7 2012

Outline

- “Public” (or “External”) side: KM3 Web Site
 - for the general public
 - for people outside the Collaboration
 - for an introduction to the activities of the Collaboration
 - for the official results/papers/plots
- “Internal” side: KM3 Wiki Pages
 - for KM3 Collaborators
 - for an easy update of the material
 - for technical/preliminary information/results
 - for reporting/keep track of “work-in-progress” activities

WORK IN PROGRESS

KM3 Web Site

<http://www.roma1.infn.it/km3/>

hosted in the roma1 server (AFS) to be replaced/integrated with a new logo for the “KM3 Experiment”?

add “flags”, i.e. translation in English (once that the content is “final”) list of content of the web site (preliminary – to be discussed)

The Collaboration: here external links to local web pages can be included

Internal Pages: quick shortcut to the “important stuff” for the Collaborators!

Benvenuti nella Home Page dell'Esperimento KM3

L'esperimento KM3 rappresenta la prosecuzione dall'esperienza di NEMO (NEutrino Mediterranean Observatory), un programma di ricerca e sviluppo, attivo dal 1997, finanziato dall'INFN e finalizzato alla realizzazione di un telescopio Cherenkov sottomarino, dal volume di un chilometro cubo, per la rivelazione di neutrini di alta energia. Le principali attività che sono state portate avanti dalla Collaborazione NEMO sono: selezione del sito sottomarino, meccanica, elettronica, simulazione delle prestazioni del rivelatore.

Il sito prescelto dalla Collaborazione per la costruzione del telescopio si trova a ~100km a largo di Capo Passero, (Sicilia), a ~3500m di profondità. Attualmente si sta lavorando alla messa in opera di un prototipo di rivelatore NEMO per verificare la funzionalità del progetto.

NEMO partecipa al Consorzio Europeo KM3Net, che rappresenta il campo della neutrino-astronomia con apparati sottomarini. Lo scopo del Consorzio KM3Net è la definizione del progetto e la realizzazione di un rivelatore Cherenkov per neutrini di alta energia nel Mediterraneo, con un volume dell'ordine di 1 km³.

[both EDIT pages and CREATE new pages]

KM3 Wiki Page

INFN Wiki Page

- Advantages

→ access regulated by the INFN-AAI [<http://wiki.infn.it/cn/ccr/aai/home>]

- possibility to filter the access using INFN user data stored in the INFN database (users categories; “membership” in INFN experiments; affiliation in INFN sections; ...)

→ software infrastructure maintained by INFN (Commissione Calcolo e Reti)

- no need for a local installation of the software

- exploit the INFN resources and services

- provide a service to INFN: the more we use it, the better the resource gets, the wider it spreads → test features, send feedback/suggestions

[contact me or your local INFN expert]

- Drawbacks

→ access available only to INFN users: staff/associates/authorized guests.

- the tool for requesting an access for non-INFN users (in particular, for foreign collaborators) is available (see Come ottenere un accesso ad INFN-AAI) but currently under development. Use it/test it and send feedback! (it is the most efficient way to push forward the development of the resource!)

→ the user information available is the one stored in the INFN database. May be not up-to-date! (in particular for new contracts/associates)

→ We cannot modify the DokuWiki installation (enable options/plugin-ins)

KM3 Wiki Pages: filtering the access

(i.e. setting the acl)

N:@ALL
W:nicolauc@inf.n.it
W:perrinac@inf.n.it
W:@inf.n.it:ismemberof=s:csn2:nemo::aff:ric

W:@inf.n.it:ismemberof=s:csn2:antares::aff:tng

For these users, the INFN database is not updated!
→ acl set “by hand”
(temporary access via “username” filter)

access FORBIDDEN to people external to the Collaboration (including INFN users outside KM3)

- verify your “membership”: once you Login in the INFN Wiki, your parameters will be listed at the bottom of the page
- If your “ismemberof” is NOT nemo or antares or km3 (i.e. YOU CANNOT ACCESS to the KM3 Wiki Pages), CONTACT ME (for a temporary access via a “username” filter) AND your local administration, to correctly set up your personal data in the INFN database.

Welcome to KM3 Wiki Pages! This wiki is part of the INFN WIKI. The access to this branch is restricted to INFN users who are members of the Collaboration. Authorized users can both read and modify the content of the wiki, and can add pages.

Go to the KM3 Experiment Web Site

NOTE: the structure of this front page is "ANTARES-inspired" and can be intended as preliminary. Any suggestion and/or comment is warmly welcome. Following this preliminary scheme, I have created a set of pages (as a starting point, to help people with DokuWiki). Some of them are already filled with some information; most of them are waiting for contributions by experts! 😊 Additional pages can be created, or pages can be re-arranged. ⚠️

Frequently Asked Questions

- Question: How can I send a message to a list?
- Answer: the messages are to be sent to the address `name_of_the_list@lists.infn.it`. If, for instance, you want your message to be distributed to the members of the km3-coll mailing list, send it to: `km3-coll@lists.infn.it`
- Question: How can I subscribe to a list (or unsubscribe from it)?

Conclusions

- The KM3 Experiment has two web resources: the KM3 Web Site and the KM3 Wiki Pages
- The KM3 Web Site is addressed to people outside the Collaboration/the general public. It contains an “Internal” sections, for a quick link to the Wiki.
- The KM3 Wiki Pages are hosted in the INFN Wiki, driven by DokuWiki. Access is regulated via INFN-AAI.

The main goal of the Wiki is to keep track of the on-going activities carried on by the KM3 Collaboration, including also preliminary/technical information.

Every member of the KM3 Collaboration can contribute editing pages/creating new pages. DokuWiki syntax has to be used.

The more we use it, the more useful it gets !

Send comments/feedback/suggestions/complains/questions to giulia.debonis@roma1.infn.it
